

The Daily Gazetteer.

SATURDAY, JUNE 9 1739

No. 1236.

Yesterday arriv'd a Mail from Holland.

Belgrade, May 13. O. S.

We have Advice from the Frontiers, that about 10,000 Turks are come to encamp near Old Orsova, that another Body is advanced towards the Frontiers of Transylvania, and that the new Grand Vizier is arriv'd with his Army near Sophia in Bulgaria, where the Turks have an Army of 70,000 Men.

Vienna, May 23. O. S. The Great Duke of Tuscany having been to view six new Frigates built here, they sail'd two Days ago, with a great many other Ships laden with Provisions for Belgrade, where, when they arrive, they are to be join'd by seven others there already; so that there will be this Year on the Danube a Squadron of 13 Frigates, which are to carry 512 Guns, and 24 Mortars, with all the necessary Ammunition.

The States of Bohemia have offer'd the Emperor a considerable Free Gift if he will come and reside with his Court at Prague.

Bastia, May 13. O. S. Tho' the Baron de Droff, Nephew to the Baron de Neuhooff, so earnestly desir'd to stay at Orezza, that he might be at Liberty to go on board again in case of Necessity, the Rebels have oblig'd him, as their Generalissimo, to accompany them to the Mountains, to join the posse there. Mean time, the Rebels are so uneasy, and so full of Murmurs at the Baron de Neuhooff's Absence, that his said Nephew is in some Fear for his own Safety; and, to make them easy, he has been forced to assure them that his Uncle will certainly be in Corsica some time next Month, with a considerable Supply.

Oppelen in Silesia, May 21. O. S. Though this City was almost intirely consumed by a Fire two Years ago, another broke out two Days ago here by Carelessness in the House of a Butcher, which spread with such Fury that near two-thirds of the Town were consumed. The Jesuits College was reduc'd to Ashes; but the Church escap'd: And both the Convent and Church of the Dominicans are destroy'd, together with the Provincial House which was lately built, the Convent of the Minor Fryars, the Bridge that communicates with the Castle, the House belonging to the Counts of Colonna, the Hospital, the Town-House, and several of the chief Streets.

Paris, June 8. N. S. The Treaty of Peace betwixt the King, the Emperor and the Empire, which is just publish'd from the Royal Printing-House, contains 150 Pages in 4to, in the Latin and French Languages, with some Acts of the Courts of Madrid and Naples in Spanish; and in all the King of Spain's Acts he takes the Title of King of CORSICA.

The First Article establishes a perpetual and universal Peace, a true Friendship and a strict Union betwixt the Emperor, the Empire and the King of France, their Kingdoms, Dominions, Vassals and Subjects, by agreeing, 'That the said Peace, Friendship and Union shall be so sincerely preserv'd and cultivated, that neither of the two Parties shall attempt any thing, under any Pretence whatsoever, to the Prejudice or Damage of the other; and that neither shall give any Aid or Succour of any Denomination whatsoever to such as shall attempt or offer to do any Damage or Prejudice to the other Party, nor receive, protect or in any wise assist the Rebels or refractory Subjects of either; but that, on the contrary, each of the two Parties shall truly procure the Profit, Honour and Advantage of the other, and shall act in Concert, and with equal Study and Application, to pacify what may tend to excite new Disturbances in Christendom, and to reconcile all Measures that shall seem to contribute to secure the Continuance of the General Tranquility, notwithstanding and without Regard to all Promises, Alliances, Treaties and Conventions whatsoever of a contrary Tendency that already are or shall be made hereafter.'

The IId Article relates to the Oblivion of Hostilities and Injuries on both Side, to the Amnesty, to the Restitution of Estates, Honours and Dignities, and to the Restoring of Prisoners on both Sides, if there are any, without Ransom.

By the IIIrd Article, the Treaties of Westphalia, Nimeguen, Ryfwic, Baden, and the Quadruple Alliance, are establish'd for the Basis of the present Peace.

The IVth contains the Preliminaries sign'd on the 3d of October 1735. the Convention sign'd at Vienna betwixt the King and the Emperor on the 11th of April 1736. concerning the Execution of the Preliminaries, and the Convention of the 28th of August following for the Resignation and actual Delivery of the Dutchy of Lorain to King Stanislaus. By virtue of the 8th Article of the said Convention the King was to pay to the Duke of Lorain four Millions and a Half of Livres of Lorain Money per Ann. till he took Possession of the Great Dutchy of Tuscany; and by the 9th and 10th Articles of the said Convention, his Majesty engaged to pay regularly to the Dutchess Dowager of Lorain, or her Heirs, the Revenues which are payable to her out of the Territories that are resign'd, besides 58,500 Livres of Lorain Money Yearly for the Interest of that Princess's Portion, 128,161 Livres for her Dowry, 42,857 Livres for Prince Charles, and 24,428 Livres to each of the two Princesses for their Appenage. The King having charg'd himself by the 8th Article with the Debts of the State, or the Mortgages on the Countries of Lorain and Bar, at the End of the Convention a State of the Account is added, by which it appears that they amount to 8,711,726 Livres of Lorain Money.

The Sequel of the IVth Article of the Treaty contains the Approbation and Guaranty of those Conventions.

In the Vth, the Emperor promises never to sue for the Disincorporation of the Dutchy of Castro and the County of Rencigione.

The VIth contains King Stanislaus's Act of Abdication, and three Acts sign'd at Vienna, in the Name of the French King, the Czarina, and King Augustus, with regard to the Affairs of Poland; besides the King's Act for recognizing King Augustus, and those of the Czarina and King Augustus for the Recognition of King Stanislaus. The Remainder of the VIth Article confirms what goes before, and admits the Czarina and King Augustus III. in Quality of the principal contracting Parties with Regard to the Affairs of Poland.

The VIIth Article contains 4 Declarations sign'd by the Emperor, the King of Spain, and the King of the Two Sicilies, concerning the effectuating of the Articles of the Peace; the Emperor's Diploma for resigning the Kingdoms of the Two Sicilies and the Tuscan Ports to the King of the Two Sicilies; the Declaration sign'd at Compiene concerning the Allodial Effects, and the Diplomas of the Kings of Spain and the Two Sicilies, for the Surrender of Parma and Placentia, and of the eventual Succession of Tuscany, to the Family of Lorain.

The VIIIth Article contains the Emperor's Diploma for the Cession of the Novaresse and the Tortonese, &c. to the King of Sardinia; his Imperial Majesty's Mandate to the Vassals and Subjects of the Fiefs of Langhes, and the King of Sardinia's Accession to the Preliminaries.

In the IXth Article is contain'd the Duke of Lorain's Act, whereby he yields up his Dominions.

By the Xth, the King of France engages himself in the Guaranty of the Pragmatick Sanction.

The XIth, to the XXth Articles inclusive, relate to the Discharge of the Imposts and Contributions; to the Demolition of the Forts built during the War; to the Restitutions to be made to the Family of Wurtemberg; to the Choice of the City of Fribourg for regulating the Limits of Alsace; to the Liquidation of the Debts of the Chamber of Ensisheim; to the holding of the Conferences at Nancy for settling the Limits of Lorain; to the Maintenance of the Treaties of Ryfwic and Baden relating to Commerce; to the securing of the Estates of the Teutonic Order in the Dutchie of Lorain and Bar; to the Stipulation for including the Princes of the Empire and the Bishop of Basil in the Treaty; and to the Promise of ratifying the same in 6 Weeks.

There's a separate Article concerning the Titles, which are not recognized on either Side.

After the Treaty, there follow the French King's Ratification, the full Powers of the Emperor, the most Christian King, and the Translation of the Pragmatick Sanction. There are moreover two Conventions as to what remain'd due from the Lands in the Empire and in Italy. Then follows the Emperor's Ratification; the King of Sardinia's Accession to the Treaty; a Declaration for referring his Pretension to Seravalle to farther Discussion; the full Powers for his Sardinian Majesty's Accession; the King of Spain's Accession, with a separate Article concerning Titles not recognized; the Accession of the King of the Two Sicilies; and last of all, the respective Full Powers.
